UNION TAVERN,

In George-Town, upon the Potomak, is

FOR SALE,

Upon the premises, on the first Monday in May next.

THIS Tavern was built by the subscription of a number of gentlemen as a necessary and useful improvement to the town—It cost 16000 dollars in the year 1799 when materials and workmanship were much cheaper than at this time. The terms of subscription were that it should be sold to the highest bidder on the day above mentioned.

It is a handsome, substantial brick building, of three stories, fronting sixty feet on the most public street in the town, and running back sixty three feet upon a wide and convenient street—The house is admirably calculated for a tavern. It contains upon the first floor four large rooms, one of them 30 by 20 feet and another 23 by 20, besides a large bar and dressing room, upon the second floor is an elegant assembly room, 60 by 30 feet, and three convenient lodging rooms. Upon the third floor are ten excellent lodging rooms—the garrat admits of a division of ten more. There is also a good kitchen and commodious cellars sufficient for such a house. Passages and cross passages intersect the house in such a manner as to make each room private.

There are Stables sufficient for the accommodation of fifty horses, with convenient sheds for carriages—attached to the building are three lots of 60 feet by 120 each, which front on three streets, and in the back yard and not 20 yards from the kitchen is a copious and never failing spring of most excellent running water.

The nature of improvements and their convenience to the city of Washington must render this property a most desirable acquisition to any person who may wish to carry on a tavern upon an extensive scale. The immediate removal of the government of the United States must receive to it full and complete custom.

The terms of sale are, one third in cash—one third in 120 days and the other third in 240 days, to be secured by approved notes negotiable at the Bank of Columbia or at either of the Banks in Baltimore, possession to be given on the day of sale and a perfect title made clear, of all incumbrances, on the last payment being made.

Foreign Intelligence.

LONDON, February 25.

The Dublin mails of the 18th, 19th, and 20th, inſtant, have arrived ſince our laſt. By the laſt of theſe we learn that ſome ſerious affrays have taken place in different parts of the country, in conſequence of the extraordinary degree of irritation which the diſcuſſion of the ſubject of the union has cauſed in the public mind. At Drogheda, a town about five and twenty miles north of the metropolis, a Britiſh corps is ſtated to have been attacked and beaten by a regiment of Iriſh militia; at Clonmell, in the ſouth, an affair of a ſimilar nature is ſaid to have happened; and the county of Down is alſo underſtood to be in a very perturbed ſtate. We truſt, however, that theſe accounts will prove to have materially exaggerated the facts, and that the queſtion will ultimately be decided by the fair conviction of cool diſcuſſion, and not by the outrageous force of hoſtile arms. Nothing particular had occurred in the Houſe of Commons ſince Tueſday morning. The next debate on the articles of the union was fixed for Friday.

March 3.

We are aſſured that the return of Mr. Gore to America is entirely on his private concerns, and has no relation whatever to the ſubject of the embaſſy. We rejoice to hear it.

March 8.

On Thurſday advices were received at the admiralty office, from ſir Alan Gardner, off Breſt. Theſe ſtate that the combined French and Spaniſh fleets, to the amount of 43 ſail of the line, beſides frigates, were appa ently ready for, and indicated a diſpoſition to put to ſea. Sir Alan had only twenty ſail of the line with him at the time, but reinforcements from Torbay muſt ſoon have reached him; and Lord Bridport himſelf who was expected to ſail on Thurſday, has probably by this time joined the ſquadron of obſervation.

PARIS, 2 Ventoſe, Feb. 21.

By letters from Alencon, written by general Gardanne, mention that the Chouans in the departments of La Manche and L'Orne are laying down their arms and ſurrender at diſcretion, as alſo all the pretended chiefs of legion, among whom are Ruay, Rhoan Chaboz, Lebrun, &c. &c.

When the Miniſter of Juſtice introduced to Buonaparte the judges of the different courts, &c. Target, the Preſident of the Tribunal of Caſſation, addreſſed the Chief Conſul as follows:—"Juſtice is the natural ally of Power: by it Power is rendered ſacred—by Power, Juſtice is invincible; by their union the public proſperity is ſecured. Your glory and the conſtitution are the pledges of both theſe benefits." Buonaparte replied—"Juſtice has too long been uſurped by factions; it belongs to all; it ought to be diſtributed to all according to invariable principles."

The ſix white horſes which drew Buonaparte's carriage on the day of the inſtallation of the conſuls were thoſe preſented to him by the Emperor of Germany on the concluſion of the peace of Campo Formio. The ſword he wore on that occaſion was likewiſe a preſent from the Emperor on the ſame occaſion.

February 25.

A French officer of artillery wrote to Buonaparte from Hamburgh in nearly the following terms:—

"We have been heretofore comrades and friends; the difference in our principles induced us to an oppoſite conduct in the revolution: yours has led to great power; mine has cauſed me to be plundered of my effects, of my eſtate, and to be proſcribed from my country. I do not repent of what I have done, and ſhall perſiſt in my principles to the end of my life. But I have left in France a father and mother whom I tenderly love. For their conſolation and my own, I ſet a great value on embracing them before death ſhall ſeperate us forever, I therefore requeſt of you a paſſport, as limited as you ſhall think proper, in order to make them my laſt adieu. If you ſhould pleaſe to grant it me, I declare that during my ſojournment I ſhall do nothing to diſturb the exiſting order of things."

In anſwer, the author of this letter received an unlimited paſſport, and money to defray the expences of his journey.

February 28.

General Lefebvre to General Buonaparte, firſt Conſul of the Republic.

Head quarters, at Paris, Feb 25.

CITIZEN CONSUL,

I haſten to communicate to you ſome intereſting diſpatches, which I have received from General Gardanne, commander of the 14th military diviſion. It appears from theſe diſpatches that he has diſcovered, in the neighbourhood of the commune of Chanu, ſeveral hiding places, whither the chiefs of the Chouans were in the habit of retiring during peace, and when they were purſued by juſtice. They had depoſited there part of the arms and equipments furniſhed by the Engliſh. This diſcovery was made in conſequence of the confeſſion of two Chouans who were at his mercy, and whom he threatened to ſhoot. They pointed out to him a lockſmith, named, Aubine, of the commune of Chanu, whom they knew to be perfectly acquainted with ſecret places. In the firſt they found arms, effects, and papers in great quantity. In the ſecond, which was the Aſylum of Frotte, they ſurprized his ſecretary, and a perſon named Legrenade. The former was killed as he ſtood upon his defence; the ſecond promiſed to make ſome uſeful diſcoveries in caſe his life was ſpared. It was in conſequence of his information, that five other places of concealment have been diſcovered, containing Fuleul, called Dufour; Major General Champy, aide-major, and Auguſta, aid du camp of Caumarque. The latter remained on the field of battle. They found, beſides, in a ſubterraneous magazine, about 200 ſuits of Engliſh uniform, a great many ſlippers, boots, about 30 muſkets, a quantity of bayonets, ſabres, cartridges, and various other articles. Legrenade ſaid, that the father of Frotte, was expected from England in ſix days. The ſecretary who was killed was to have gone to meet him. This expedition was conducted by citizen Lafitte, capt. adjoint to adjutant general Bribs, who has diſplayed on this occaſion much zeal and judgment.

By another diſpatch, the ſame general informs me, that a perſon of the name of Lavictoire, who commanded a company of twenty five men, in the vicinity of the ſame commune of Chanu, has been taken in arms, and ſhot on the ſpot; that after the death of their chief, his men ſubmitted to the laws of the republic; and that this expedition has completely purified the ſurrounding communes, which were the reſort of the Chouans. This laſt ſucceſs is to be attributed to citizen Bertrand, captain of the moveable column of Corneille, the conduct of which Gardanne has highly praiſed.

Health and reſpect.

(Signed) LEFEBVRE.

DRESDEN, February 12.

The Ruſſian troops are in full march on their return home. A new Courier has brought an order for them to halt only every ſixth day, inſtead of every third.

STRASBURGH, Feb. 12.

All the German Gazettes, which lately propagated doubts reſpecting the retreat of the Ruſſian army, ſpeak now of their retrograde march acroſs Moravia and Gallicia. Paul had at firſt ordered that his troops ſhould march at the rate of thirty miles a day, but the bad ſtate of the roads prevented its execution, and in a conference held at Cracow the 1ſt of Feb. it was agreed that they ſhould not make longer marches then when on their way to Italy. They are divided into eight columns of which four will paſs by weſtern Gallicia, and croſs Cracovia; the other four will paſs by Lemberg. The firſt column that was to paſs by Cracovia was expected there Feb. 7.

The reports of Peace ſtill maintain in Germany; but while they hope to re-eſtabliſh peace between France and Auſtria, the German papers are making a war on another point. They pretend that Paul has recalled his troops with ſo much precipitation only for the purpoſe of collecting them on the frontiers of Pruſſian Sileſia, and thus forcing, by menaces, the Pruſſian government to declare itſelf againſt France.—Such a menace will not intimidate

A NEW ADVERTISEMENT.

To Merchants, Store-keepers and Tradesmen in general, &c.

GENTLEMEN,

I FEEL peculiar pleaſure in ſtating, that you have ſo generouſly and generally come forward and ſubſcribed for my work, that (notwithſtanding all proviſions heretofore made by me) the coins and monies of account of the principal maritime trading places in Ruſſia, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Pruſſia, Poland, Germany, Holland, Flanders, Spain, Portugal, Italy, in ſeveral of the windward and leeward Weſt India Iſlands, and many ports in the Eaſt Indies—the whole to be reduced to dollars and cents; and the beſt mode of computing the exchange with thoſe places explained; alſo, a large ſheet table of calculations at compound intereſt at 6 per cent. the tables uſed in banks for the determination of the value of gold: the intereſt of each month from one to twelve months, on every dollar (without exception) from one to two thouſand; and a table of all the poſt towns in the United States; beſides much other general uſeful information, ſhall poſitively be added to the work, entitled

ROWLETT'S

Tables of Diſcount or Intereſt,

On every dollar (without exception)

From one to two thouſand; thence on every ten, fifty, and five hundred, to five thouſand, from one day to ſixty-four days incluſive, at ſix per cent. with notes for 5, 7 and 8 per cent, &c. &c. &c.

The work is dedicated, by permiſſion, to the Preſident and Directors of the Bank of North America, and received in the firſt twelve days the patronage of JOHN ADAMS, Preſident of the United States; of THOMAS JEFFERSON, Vice Preſident of the United States and Preſident of the Senate; of two-thirds of the Senators and Members of the Houſe of Repreſentatives of the United States; and of the Preſidents and Directors of the different Banks unanimouſly, &c.—a liſt of the whole is printed and attached to the propoſals.

It is evident that the work will be no trumpery catch-penny-thing; for I do aſſure the public, that the price of it is reduced very near one-half, according to the uſual rate at which books ſell; and it is my full determination to render it, in point of SUBJECT MATTER, a valuable acquiſition.

With reſpect to the accuracy of the Tables, too much cannot be ſaid, and I pledge myſelf that a PREMIUM of not leſs than ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS ſhall be offered to the firſt perſon who ſhall inform me of a ſingle error of one cent, according to the principle acted upon.

To do away all doubts with reſpect to the expences of the undertaking, I do moſt ſolemnly declare that they will amount to very near FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS, and perhaps more, independent of any remuneration for my own trouble in the arduous buſineſs, and the great expence already incurred for ſpecimens, propoſals, advertiſements, hand-bills, &c. &c.

I do therefore truſt with confidence, that gentlemen will continue to come forward with that public ſpirit and generoſity which characterize the nation, and ſupport the work by ſubſcribing to it without heſitation: otherwiſe it cannot be publiſhed, and I muſt ſit down to reflect upon a CONSIDERABLE LOSS.

And am, with profound reſpect,

Gentlemen,

Your obedient humble ſervant,

JOHN ROWLETT,

Accomptant, Bank North America.

Poſtſcript.—Gentlemen are reſpectfully invited to ſee Specimens of the Tables, &c. exhibited at the City-tavern, Hardy's Hotel, Francis's Hotel, the Indian Queen, Budwoody's tavern, the Franklin Head and at the George; and pleaſe be referred to the other advertiſements which appear every day in ſome one of the newſpapers.

Subſcribers are to pay nothing until the book is delivered rigorouſly conformable to all ſtipulations.

NEW.

One of the Circular Letters of a certain Anthony New, who appears to be a Member of Congress, has been enclosed to me by a Correspondent. It will be attended to, although I think it would have been more appropriately directed to the Attorney General of the District.

The gentleman* whose unparalleled impudence not long since astonished our government by a large demand for money expended, and important services rendered—which dissolved, upon investigation, like "the baseless fabric of a vision"—recited, some years since to a large company in Philadelphia, an ode which he had just written upon the New-Year. A similar ode was immediately after read from an English Magazine; but with an unblushing face, he affirmed himself to be the author. "Upon my honor," said he, "my dear friends, I know not how to account for this, except from the great similarity of thought and expression, which I have frequently observed in two authors upon the same subject—which is wonderful—wonderful indeed."

THESPIAN SOCIETY.

Having observed a performance given out at the Old Theatre, South street, under the title of "The Thespian Panorama," the public are cautioned not to be led there by the name of Thespian, as 'tis evident the intention of this STRANGE GANG, in assuming the title, is only to mislead the curious, and thereby gain a crowded house, and consequently crowded pockets. The friends of the members are well assured that the object of the Thespian Society was not emolument. It is therefore hoped that the public will not countenance imposters.

READING, April 12.

To the Freemen of Berks County.

IN order to refute any calumnies respecting Gen. Bower, which might have reached the Governor, two gentlemen of Reading who had been friends to Mr. M'Kean's election, went to Lancaster.

They reminded the Governor of General Bower's services in the revolutionary war—testified to his merit as a man, as Register and Recorder, and to his moderate conduct at the last election; and offered, if it would be of service to procure certificates signed by three fourths of the Freemen of Berks county to the truth of what they said, and recommending the continuance of Gen. Bower in his office. To this our just governor replied, that certificates would be of no service—that he had heard another account of Gen. Bower's conduct, and related two or three trifling circumstances which the gentlemen from their own knowledge declared to be false—he then said that he had promised the offices—that Gen. Bower was too intimate with Daniel Clymer and others—that he was sorry for him perhaps he might repent, and if he would write to him perhaps he would get him another office.

Mr. Scull in consequence of encouragement which he received, went to Lancaster, to solicit a continuance in his office. In order to avoid an insult (if possible) he got a friend to call on the Great Man and enquire when he could have the honor of an audience—the time was appointed—Mr. Scull and Mr. Read attended, and after the ceremony of an introduction (for although his honour had known Mr. Scull very well and just before the election had accosted him with great cordiality, his Excellency with true Democratic dignity disdained to recognize him) the following conversation took place:

Mr. Scull—I have done myself the honor to wait on Your Excellency, to request a renewal of my Commission as Clerk of the Orphan's Court of Berk's County.

His Excellency—I have not yet made up my mind,—I have not yet made any appointments in Berks County, and shall not for some time—and Sir, your conduct is not approved of by some people in your county.

Mr. Scull—Are there any charges against me as an officer, Sir? If there are, I am ready in an instant to justify myself.

His Excellency—Sir!! I never enter into arguments on subjects of this kind; but thus much I can tell you Sir, that your conduct as an officer of the State Government has been improper—I am told (turning to Mr. Read) that about twenty of you in Reading have associated yourselves to encourage Royalty.

Mr. Read—Royalty! You have been misinformed Sir, no such idea. I am convinced ever entered the head of any gentleman of Reading.

His Excellency—Sir! I have good authority for what I say—pretty goings on here too—I wish to conciliate, but they won't do it—the other day to be sure the fellows (alluding to the members of the Assembly) were highly offended at a letter Mr. Bryan sent—They must not be offended to be sure, but I may be abused by the hour—however it will come at last as the Sailor said—"The hardest send off."

Here Mr. Scull, concluded either that the old gentleman was deranged or intoxicated, and finding that he was not likely to get any satisfaction, took his hat and wished him a good morning.

From the foregoing fact may we not reasonably infer:

1. That the governor was not influenced in his removals from office by any of the reasons assigned by him in his reply to the Senate, and therefore that he had the meanness to insinuate falsehoods in that reply.

2. That his real motive was either what the Senate charged him with, to wit "Because the officers exercised their rights as freemen," or something worse which he dare not avow.

3. That he had the cruelty and injustice to inflict all the punishment in his power on freemen either without cause or without giving them a hearing.

4. That he himself considers his conduct as infamous.

5. That, not content with ruining a number of worthy men in their fortunes he has basely endeavoured to injure their characters by falsely charging them with incapacity or misconduct.

6. That he has either had the folly to believe, or the wickedness and impudence to assert without believing it that twenty people had associated in Reading in favour of royalty.

7. That he has disgraced himself by speaking in a contemptuous manner of the house of assembly.

8. That he has by refusing to see a certificate signed by three fourths of the freemen of Berks county—(or saying that it was unnecessary to get it) shewn that he considers the county as governed by colonels Heister and Frailey, and that the inhabitants are slaves and not freemen——and

9. That Thomas M'Kean acts as the governor of a party and not of the State.

I do not mean to comment on the folly, meanness, insolence, injustice, or inhumanity of such conduct—It is not necessary—No person worthy the name of a freeman defends it—It is almost universally execrated.—I do not wish to injure the poor old man who fills the office of governor—I believe him to be the most miserable creature breathing—and he is infinitely beneath my notice—but I think it proper as one of the sovereign people to call the attention of my compeers to the conduct of their servant, in order that they may judge of those disinterested men who so warmly supported him at the election, and who now see and hear for him.

In my next number I will enquire whether the governor is warranted in his assertion that he deserves praise rather than censure for his official arrangements—and into the real motives of those arrangements.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, April 29.

The bill to promote the Manufacture of Sheet Copper within the United States, by the incorporation of a Company for carrying on the same was read a third time and passed—ayes 53.

Mr. New said, he had understood from the Clerk that several volumes of the Journals of the Old Congress, which he had been directed to subscribe for, were now completed, and ready for delivery; but that he did not think himself authorized under the original resolution to distribute them—Mr. N. therefore moved the following resolution.

Resolved, That the Clerk of this House be directed to deliver to the members such of the Journals of the Old Congress as have been printed.

Ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. D. Foster, from the Committee of Claims, to whom was referred the report of the Secretary of the Treasury on the petition of Charles Pettit, made report that it would be proper to adopt the said report—which was referred to a Committee of the whole House and made the order of the day for Thursday next.

The House again Resolved itself into a Committee of the whole on the bill to provide for the execution of the 27th article of the treaty of Amity, Commerce and Navigation, made with Great Britain—Mr. Rutledge in the chair—and another amendment of Mr. Nicholas, providing that no American citizens, who may have been impressed, and shall liberate himself, shall be delivered up—being under consideration—after some debate, Mr. Marshall proposed several modifications of the amendment, which embraced the principle contended for—A motion was then made and carried that the committee rise—ayes 43—noes 42. Leave was given to sit again—and Mr. Marshall's motion was ordered to be printed.

The House resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the report of the Select Committee to whom was committed the bill from the Senate prescribing the mode of deciding disputed elections of President and Vice President of the United States.

The Committee recommend the rejection of the principles contained in the bill, and propose substituting the following.

That each house shall choose by ballot, four of its members, who shall form a joint committee, and have power to examine into all disputes relative to the election of President and Vice President; other than such as may relate to the number of votes by which the Electors may have been appointed. No person to be a member of this committee, who shall be one of the five highest candidates for either office.

All documents, (other than those inclosed in the packets containing the certificates of the votes of the Electors) petitions, exceptions and memorials against the votes of the Electors, or the persons for whom they have voted, to be delivered to this committee.

The committee to have power to send for persons, papers and records. All testimony to be reduced to writing, and signed by the witness. Persons swearing falsely, to incur the penalty attached to wilful and corrupt perjury.

Marshalls of the United States directed to serve process issued by the committee.

Witnesses to receive the same compensation as if attending the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Committee to appoint a Clerk, who shall, under their direction, keep a journal of their proceedings, to be reported to both houses.

Tellers to be appointed by each house, before their assembling to count the votes, whose duty it shall be to receive the certificates of the Electors from the President of the Senate, after they shall have opened and read, and to note in writing the debates of the certificates, the names of the Electors, the time of their election, and the time and place of their meeting, the number of votes given, and the names of the persons voted for; and also the substance of the certificates from the Executive of each state, accompanying the votes of the Electors. The minutes made by the Tellers are to be read in the presence of both houses, and a copy entered on the Journals of each.

As soon as the Committee shall have made their report, both houses shall meet for the purpose of counting the votes. The names of the different states who voted, to be written on separate pieces of paper, and put into a ballot box: and the votes from each state are to be examined and counted in the order in which the name of the state shall be drawn from the box: If no exception be made, the votes of such state are immediately to be counted; but if any exception be taken, the person taking the same shall state it directly, and not argumentatively, and sign his name thereto. [If it be founded on the report of the joint committee, and be seconded and signed by a member of each house, then each house shall immediately retire, without question or debate, to its own apartment, and shall respectively take the question on the exception, without debate, by ayes and noes: Unless both houses concur in such exception, the votes objected to shall be counted. After decision, both houses shall again assemble, and resume the count. If the exception taken shall arise on the face of the papers opened by the President of the Senate in presence of both houses, and shall not have been noticed in the report of the joint committee; it may be referred to that committee to examine and report on, both houses concurring in such reference, otherwise to be decided as before mentioned.]

The two houses may adjourn from day to day, passing over Sunday, until the count shall be completed.

When the joint committee shall have been formed, it shall not be in the power of either house to dissolve it, or to withdraw any of its members.

The executive of each state to furnish the electors respectively with a copy of the law or resolution under which they are to act; copies of which the electors are to annex to each list of their votes. And the executive also is to transmit within days after the appointment of electors, to the President of the Senate, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to the Secretary of State, a complete list of each of the electors appointed, the law under which they act, &c. The Post-master-general and Post-masters are made accountable for the safe delivering of such packets, if transmitted by that medium.

All petitions respecting election to be presented to the Senate, and then to be transmitted to the House of Representatives, where they shall be read, and afterwards delivered to the joint committee. No petition to be received after a day certain; nor shall any petition against the qualifications of a candidate or elector, be received, unless ten days notice thereof in writing be previously given to the person whose qualifications are contested, or where improper conduct is petitioned against.

Judges of courts of the United States, and others qualified, directed to take evidence, when thereunto required, by any person petitioning against or contesting the votes given by the electors; provided public notice for weeks shall be given in the paper printed at the seat of government in the state, of such intention, and the points intended to be established thereby. All testimony thus taken shall be reduced to writing, and forwarded to the President of the Senate, together with a copy of the warrant of summons and notification issued in that behalf, and the original affidavit proving the service of the notification directed as aforesaid.

The committee also propose altering the title, so as to read "an act prescribing the mode of counting the votes for President and Vice President or the United States."

Mr. Nicholas, after complementing the committee for the material and beneficial changes made in the bill referred to them, said, it was not yet, in his opinion, a just one—and particularly objected to the appointment of the committee contemplated. He therefore moved to strike out the first section, which contained the principle of the bill—The question was taken without debate and negatived, yeas 39, nays 43.

Mr. Gallatin objected to the principle contained in the 8th paragraph, between crotchets, as being unconstitutional, and moved to strike out that part of the bill; was opposed by Mr. Marshall; after which the committee rose, and obtained leave to sit again.

A message was received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Shaw, his secretary, notifying that the President had approved and signed the act intituled "An act to authorize the President of the United States, to accept for the United States, a cession of jurisdiction of territory lying west of Pennsylvania, commonly called the Western Reserve of Connecticut;" and also an act intituled "An act to provide for rebuilding the Light House at New London, for the support of a Light House at Clarke's Point; for the support and erection of a Light House at Wagwarm Point; and for other purposes.

A message was received from the Senate by Mr. Otis, their Secretary, informing the House that the Senate have passed the bill for the preservation of public Arsenals and Magazines, sent from this House; and that the Senate accede to the conference requested on the bill for dividing the North Western Territory into two separate governments; also, that the Senate have passed a bill supplemental to the act intituled an act to augment the army of the United States, and for other purposes, to which they request the concurrence of this House. Adjourned.

THE FUTURE FRENCH NATION.

A PROGNOSTICK.

THE depopulation of France has been much greater than is easily to be conceived—Emigration, the Guillotine, Levies "en massee" and the impressments, better known under the title of Conscriptions, have effectually drained the interior of France of all the youthful, hearty, and able bodied male inhabitants, and a day is very near and rapidly advancing, when it will be found full as difficult for the Republic to recruit her armies by any means whatever as it is now found to re-establish her finances.

We are assured from a respectable authority that very serious apprehensions are entertained by the most enlightened and best informed of the French for the very existence of the Nation itself, and for the future appearance, form and mental, as well as bodily powers of the inhabitants of France.

In a late consultation of several members of the National Institute, and the failure of population being the subject, it was generally agreed that peace must speedily be made, or that the race of Frenchmen would soon be extinct.

"What a prospect is before us, (said one of the members) our youth are all in the army, or in foreign countries—Marriages are every where discouraged throughout the republic—Prostitution and debauchery have arisen to an height unequalled in the most vicious stages of the ancient monarchy. In fact, there are no husbands for our women? Who have we at home, except boys, old men, the lame, the blind, the maimed and the diseased.

Sir, I maintain, that unless an end be put to this calamitous war, and we can get home our warriors who are really men to re-produce a French people, we are, alas, nearly exhausted! We shall in a very few years present to Europe a nation as unlike the present race of men as are the tribes of Ourang-Outang's asses or monkeys of Africa. I invite the members of the Institute to reflect seriously on the consequences to the nation, of having no other Husbands for our Women than Boys, Dotards, Cripples and Debauchees."

An arrival at Baltimore, brings the affecting detail of one of the late murders of a crew of our countrymen by the French. Since which, another massacre of a whole ship's company has taken place.

In a late paper we read that TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY American vessels have within a short time been condemned in a single Spanish port; we hear every day of the subjects of that nation attacking under French colors; and now they have the impudence to declare a port of great importance to our trade, in a state of Blockade; a pretence more ridiculous than language can express. We learn these things with Christian, with Quaker, or rather with Jew-like fortitude. The Sybarites, the Helots, were valiant and magnanimous in comparison of such effeminacy. But it is no fault of the people. They rose in arms; and prepared them for the fray. They declared their country had borne disgrace long enough and with one voice they said "NUNC TEMPUS EST PUGNANDUM; nunc ense libero, pulsande hostes." Hereafter it will most surely be demanded, how and why such ruin hath come upon us.

In my lay habit—not the sacred gown?
—Once, in my morn of life, a wizard said
You ne'er shall rise by benefice, or trade;
But find, remote from consequence or fame,
A LOCAL SOMETHING and a SHADOWY NAME;

Ardent, though thoughtful, and though serious, gay,
Bow to no populace for golden views,
Your portion, memory, and best gift, your muse."

PROPOSALS

By WILLIAM COBBETT,

For importing the following periodical publications:

1. The British Critick;
2. The Anti-Jacobin Review and Magazine;
3. The Gentleman's Magazine;
4. Le Mercure Britanique, or The British Mercury.

THE British Critick is a regular Review of all the works published in Great Britain; it is conducted with great impartiality and ability, and of the numerous publications of the kind which do now appear, and which have appeared in Great Britain; it is universally allowed to be the best.

[Price 50 Cents.]

The Anti-Jacobin Review and Magazine is as its title seems to indicate, rather more confined, as to the nature of its subjects, but it certainly is not less calculated for extensive utility. This work is divided into four departments: 1 Original Criticism—2 A Review of the other Reviews—3 Occasional Essays, in prose and verse—and 4th, A Monthly Summary of History and Politics. Every six months it has a supplement, containing a review of foreign works, not forgetting those of America. The Anti-Jacobin dwells less on subjects which are merely literary and scientific, than on those which have a more immediate influence on society. With a bold and masterly hand, it corrects the blunderings of error, traces the intricate windings of misrepresentation, and strips off the mask of hypocrisy. The avowed champion of the church and the state, it spares the enemies of neither, whether open or secret; and, scorning the pusillanimous defensive, upon which the friends of truth have too long acted, it carries on a continual and vigorous offensive warfare against anarchy, immorality, and irreligion, and thus establishes by its uniform conduct, its right to the title it has assumed.

[Price 50 Cents.]

The Gentleman's Magazine, a work stamped with the approbation of three score years, consists chiefly, of communications from antiquaries and cultivators, and of original essays, in verse and prose written by the most learned and ingenious men in the kingdom, and embracing by turns, almost every subject interesting to man. The miscellaneous part of the work is followed by a selection of authentick foreign and domestick intelligence, including official reports, state-papers, and an abstract of the proceedings in parliament; next comes a very copious obituary, being not merely a list of deaths, but a valuable series of biography; to which is added, a Meteorological Diary and Table, a Bill of Mortality for London and its environs, a table of the average prices of corn, and of the stocks, for every day in the month: So that this work must ever be an entertaining and useful companion, not only to those who are of the learned professions, commonly so called, but to the merchant, the farmer, and, in short, to every man, whatever may be the subject of his study, or the object of his pursuit.

[Price 40 Cents.]

Le Mercure Britannique, or, British Mercury; by Monsieur Mallet Du Pan.—This work, of which one number is published every fortnight, in French and in English, commenced in August 1798, and is continued with increasing spirit and celebrity. It is both historical and critical; it contains a summary, and is the repository, of all the important events, established facts and public instruments, which relate to the present æra; it investigates points of fact, of politics, and national rights; it extends its view over all the nations of Europe, examines the conduct and discloses the motives of their respective courts; it is in short a brief and comprehensive history of the times, equally remarkable for the elegance of its style, the profundity of its remarks, and the soundness of its principles.

[Price 50 Cents.]

These four works comprise every thing useful in the periodical way. Gentlemen may subscribe for all, or for either, of them. The first order is intended to be sent off on the 1st of May next; the successive numbers will be received at New York in two months upon an average after, their publication in London; so that those which are subscribed for on or before the 1st of May, will be received in September; after which they will with very little irregularity, come to hand once a month, the importer having made such arrangements as cannot fail of securing punctuality on the part of his correspondents.

☞ Subscriptions will be received from any part of America, by J. W. FENNO, Philadelphia. No advance is required. The prices are but four cents a number higher than in London.

MAP OF NEW-JERSEY.

THE commissioners appointed for the purpose of circulating subscription papers, to the proposed plan of procuring an accurate Map of New-Jersey, immediately after their appointment transmitted printed copies of the plan to various persons in the several counties of this state, and in the cities of New York and Philadelphia, and since that time, through the medium of the public prints, have requested the gentlemen entrusted with those papers, to return the number of subscribers by them respectively procured, to James Salter, Esq. at Trenton, on or before the 6th day of February last. The number of subscriptions received, not amounting to two thousand, the commissioners did not conceive themselves authorized to fix a day for the meeting of the company; nevertheless being of opinion from respectable information, that the actual subscriptions are nearly, if not fully, adequate to the complete organization of the company, if they could be ascertained by regular returns, and being convinced that a trifling degree of exertion, on the part of the persons holding the subscription lists, would enable them to carry the intention of the subscribers into effect, they have by the unanimous advice and consent of the subscribers, whom they have been able to consult, fixed on the 14th day of May next, being the 2d day of the sitting of the supreme court, for a meeting of the subscribers at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at the State House in Trenton, for the purpose of electing five Trustees and a Treasurer, if the number of subscriptions should be sufficient, or in any event to determine on the measures necessary to secure the attainment of an object so useful to the state.

From the universal approbation exhibited by their fellow-citizens, at the commencement of this undertaking, it was to be expected that the subscriptions returned would have ensured its immediate execution, and the commissioners are persuaded if proper attention is paid to the procuring of subscriptions, to their punctual return at the time fixed for the meeting, and to the attendance of the subscribers, either in person or by proxy, that no farther delay will take place in commencing the operations of the company, in time for their execution during the course of the ensuing summer.

WILLIAM PEARSON,

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on the morning of Saturday the 19th instant, a mulatto Servant Man, named Wilks, but commonly called John, he is about 23 years old, 5 feet 8 inches high, slender and knocked kneed; he is a dark mulatto, has thick bushy hair, which he commonly wears plaited and turned up short behind; his face is thin, but appears more so from having large whiskers; he had on when he went away, a round hat about half worn, white muslin cravat, a brown second hand coat with fashionable metal buttons, a black silk waistcoat, with a white one underneath, pantaloons of a greyish cloth with buttons at the ancles, striped cotton stockings and shoes. He may have changed these clothes, but it is not likely, as he has left all his others behind him. I am told a servant of General Ridgely's, with whom he was intimate ran-away on Sunday morning; it is not improbable but they are together. Wilks is from Chester-town on the eastern shore of this state, where he lived with a mr. Jeremiah Nichols who sold him to me. I have good reason to believe he has gone to Philadelphia.

The above reward will be given to any person who may lodge him in jail at that or any other place, and give me or mr Joseph S. Lewis of Philadelphia notice of the same.

He is an excellent house servant, and if in Philadelphia will probably offer himself to hire in that capacity,

W. GILMER.

Baltimore, April 22—(25) d.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN-AWAY from Spring Forge, in York County, a negro man, named ISAAC, otherwise CUDJO, about 21 years old, the property of Robert Coleman, Esq. Whoever takes up said negro and lodges him in any jail in this or any of the neighbouring states shall have the above reward or reasonable expences if brought home.
